

ABSTRACT

A surgical fastener for use in surgical procedures comprises a first member, a second 5 member, and an anchor. Surgical materials may be secured within the surgical fastener.
Methods of securing the surgical fastener to an anatomical structure are disclosed herein.

2183064_1